

LAWRENCE BOOMED FOR COMPTROLLER

Livingston Faction Seeking Alliance With The Bronx Organization.

FIGHT ON WITH CALDER

Manhattan Leaders Suggest C. Lockwood as Candidate for Mayor.

Richard Lawrence, Republican leader of The Bronx, is being boomed for the Republican nomination for Comptroller by the Jacob A. Livingston faction of the organization in Brooklyn. Livingston, who has a fight on his hands to retain the nominal leadership, would like to name the candidate for Mayor. To that end he is said to be seeking an alliance with the organizations in Queens, Richmond and The Bronx.

The use of Mr. Lawrence's name is believed to be without his consent and with the idea of furthering the desired alliance. He has been on a business trip to the Far West and is not expected back before July. Thomas W. Whittle, Surveyor of the Port, who has been left in command in The Bronx, said yesterday he had heard the suggestion of Mr. Lawrence for Comptroller, but did not know how it would appeal to him.

While Livingston is seeking to land the Mayoralty nomination for his organization by dealing with the smaller boroughs, Samuel S. Koenig, Manhattan leader, presumably in self-defense, has been leaning toward Senator W. M. Calder's side of the Brooklyn situation. The strong sentiment being expressed by Manhattan leaders for the nomination of State Senator Charles C. Lockwood, Senator Calder's right hand man, is a feature of the present situation. They are willing to argue in support of their declaration that Senator Lockwood would make by far the strongest Mayoralty candidate. Not so strongly expressed is the suggestion that Martin Saxe of Manhattan, who has cherished ambitions to run for Mayor, would fit in for Comptroller on a Lockwood ticket.

Mr. Livingston is still fighting for his political life against the steadily rising influence of Senator Calder in Brooklyn affairs. Friends of the Senator say he might have always wielded this influence if he had cared to use it, but, with Mr. Livingston lined up to defeat the Senator for re-nomination next year, Senator Calder decided it as necessary for him to wage a final fight against Livingston. The announcement of the appointment by the President of John T. Rafferty as Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second district, including all of Long Island, will be the signal that Livingston has lost his grip. He has backed Thomas A. McWhinney of Nassau. Adversers from Washington are that Mr. Rafferty already has been selected. Even now, it is said by those familiar with the Brooklyn organization, a line up of leaders would show that Livingston no longer had his majority in the executive committee. It is predicted he will be defeated for reelection to the chairmanship of that committee in the fall unless he makes peace with Senator Calder in the meantime.

WOMAN IMPLICATED IN GRAND VIEW MURDER

Cesaro, Convicted, to Testify Against Co-Defendant.

Genero Cesaro, con vict of first degree murder for the killing of Michael Bohl in Grand View, has turned State's evidence and implicated a woman in the crime, according to a statement issued yesterday by the authorities of Rockland county. He says he will testify against Albert Libero, the third of six defendants to be tried when Libero's trial is resumed to-morrow at New City. Cesaro is said to have told the name of the woman, but because his story has not yet been corroborated no action has been taken against her. She is said to have told the robbers where the store kept by the murdered man was located, and to have given other assistance and advice to them.

HEART MASSAGE RESTORES ITS FUNCTIONS FOR HOURS

William Carrigan of Belleville, N. J., Subject of Extraordinary Attempt by St. Michael's Hospital Surgeons After Hip Operation.

The pulse of William Carrigan of River road, Belleville, N. J., stopped late Friday afternoon while he was being operated upon for an injury to his hip in the St. Michael's Hospital at Newark. The surgeons could find no heart action whatever, and to all appearances Carrigan was dead.

Believing that the man was in a period of suspended animation due to the effects of the ether which had been used as an anesthetic, the surgeons tried manipulating the muscles around the heart, and when that failed an incision was quickly made in the man's body. One of the doctors then inserted his finger, reached the heart and massaged the outer covering of the organ. After a short time Carrigan's heart, under the massaging, began to function again and soon was beating normally. The operation on his hip was then finished and the patient appeared to be in good shape. Late in the afternoon, however, he sank into a coma and died shortly after midnight. He was 32 years old, and the operation on his hip was made necessary by an automobile accident on May 25.

BROKERS AT ODDS, CLERKS INDICTED

'Spendthrift,' Accuses F. A. Travis; 'Negligent,' Retorts Jay Robinson Duff.

Whether Jay Robinson Duff lost his fortune made in "war brides" through his own extravagance or through the dishonesty of employees may be learned to-morrow when Duff appears in the Supreme Court for examination before trial in a suit brought by Frederick A. Travis, his former partner, in the brokerage firm of Jay Robinson Duff & Co. Justice Donnelly yesterday refused to vacate an order directing Duff to appear.

Travis is suing for an accounting of the profits of the firm, which had a stock exchange seat until it had to sell it to satisfy obligations. In asking to be relieved from testifying, Duff alleged that Travis was in charge of the business, while Duff was a floor trader except when he was in the army. Travis' negligence, Duff asserted, permitted employees to defraud him and to obtain "a large part of my capital, amounting to almost $500,000," by altering the books. When he discovered this, Duff said, Travis resigned and left the city. Duff asserted that the cashier, Vincent Amoroso, and a clerk had been indicted and are awaiting trial, and that criminal charges against other employees are likely to be brought. To examine him at this time, Duff asserted, might defeat the ends of justice.

Travis, on the other hand, alleged that Duff drew $110,000 from the firm in 1919

DR. BUTLER WILL LAY LOUVAIN CORNERSTONE

Columbia's Head to Sail for Europe Tuesday.

Among numerous important engagements awaiting Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler in Europe this summer is the honor of laying the cornerstone of the historic library of Louvain, sacked by the Germans in their invasion of Belgium. The cornerstone laying will take place in the last week of July, and active preparations are being made for the event. Dr. Butler is chairman of the executive committee of the national committee in this country for the restoration of the University of Louvain.

He will sail for Europe on the Aquitania on Tuesday. He has joined with Bishop William T. Manning, Thomas W. Lamont, President Lowell of Harvard, Thomas A. Edison and many others in an appeal to Americans to complete the $500,000 fund for the restoration of the library, a fund to which America is pledged. Only about $150,000 has been raised up to date. Whitney Warren is the architect.

HAYWARD WILL GIVE AID TO UNTERMYER

U. S. District Attorney Prepares for Prosecutions on Lockwood Committee Data.

WANTS LARGER STAFF

Amendments to Present Law Needed to Make Federal Action Fully Effective.

Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the Lockwood legislative committee, received assurances yesterday from Col. William Hayward, United States Attorney, that every form of cooperation would be accorded the committee in its further investigation of building conditions.

This means that Col. Hayward will take up at once the work of scrutinizing the records of the Lockwood committee, many chapters of which have been earmarked by Mr. Untermyer for special consideration, and present them to a Federal Grand Jury.

Col. Hayward conferred with Mr. Untermyer at Graystone yesterday. The newly appointed United States Attorney is anxious to tackle the job of prosecuting alleged violators of the Federal anti-trust laws. He has told Mr. Untermyer, however—and the Lockwood committee's counsel agrees—that prosecution must be more or less of a farce until the laws are amended.

There are now before Col. Hayward's assistants records covering more than twenty combinations, all of which, Mr. Untermyer contends, are or have been operating in restraint of trade. Col. Hayward feels that in order adequately to meet the situation it will be necessary for him to enlarge his staff.

He may require ten or a dozen new assistants to devote their entire time to this particular line of work.

The record of the Lockwood committee's investigation already covers sixteen thousand pages and embraces more than one thousand exhibits. Col. Hayward, seen at the Union League Club last night following his conference with Mr. Untermyer, would not hazard a guess as to how many assistants he would require to catch up and thereafter keep abreast of the Lockwood committee's work. Col. Hayward said:

"Mr. Untermyer has offered to cooperate with the Federal authorities and turn over all the evidence gathered by the Lockwood committee to facilitate Federal action against the trade combinations exposed."

"However, I realize that it will be hard to take these matters up with the present limited staff of the United States Attorney's office. As the first step, therefore, I propose to request authority for the employment of enough assistants and investigators to assure speedy presentation of cases of alleged violations of the Federal laws."

"Mr. Untermyer has agreed to furnish me the list of cases on the committee's record. When he does I will take the entire matter up with the Attorney-General."

HONOR ROLL FOR BROOKLYN.

Bronx Memorial to Be Unveiled at Exercises on June 26.

The bronze honor roll with which Brooklyn is honoring its citizens who died in the war with Germany will be unveiled on Sunday, June 26, the anniversary of the day on which American troops first set foot on French soil. Natalie Todd, daughter of William H. Todd, will remove the flag from the statue, and Park Commissioner Harman will preside at the ceremonies.

The principal speaker will be United States Senator William M. Calder, and Mayor Hylan will accept the roll and memorial in behalf of the city. The bronze panels of the memorial bear the names of 2,900 men, and more will be added as they are brought to light by army records.

dence at the public hearings. The manner in which examinations of candidates for special positions on technical subjects are conducted and how the ratings of candidates after examination are figured is being gone into, and is said to reveal an extraordinary state of affairs, with some very humorous features. The lack of "experts" on any subject in the Hylan regime has driven the commission to employing outsiders to pass upon the examination papers of candidates and prepare questions. Friends of some of these outside examiners and friends of their friends are said to have achieved extraordinarily high ratings in technical subjects without having much real experience, while men examined who could show a long experience record on the same subject have found their ratings absurdly low. Repeated requests have been made to the commission to revise such ratings, but the requests have been denied. In consequence, it is said, many experienced men will not undertake technical examinations for city positions, fearing their papers will be passed upon by unfriendly or inexperienced examiners. The city thus loses the opportunity to employ the services of many qualified and experienced men in branches of the public service requiring technical ability and experience, and such positions in consequence are filled by men of lesser qualifications.
